Punch-out Catalog session time clock reset

AggieBuy punch-out catalogs “time out” after thirty minutes of inactivity. The new reset feature allows you to monitor how long your punch-out session has been open and to re-start the 30-minute clock.

Click on a punch-out supplier.

The counter also has a Reset Session button. When you notice that the counter is getting close to 01:00 click the “Reset Session” button and the countdown will start over. This will also restart your session in AggieBuy so that it will not time you out.

NOTE: The reset clock feature is visible on and applicable to only the punch-out catalogs, not your overall AggieBuy session. For security purposes AggieBuy sessions are also on a time clock which locks the session and forces users to login after 30 minutes of inactivity.
